2. Motivation

- Apache Software Foundation announced it's under Export Control. OSS projects under Apache License does not equal to OSS projects within ASF!!! <https://apache.org/licenses/exports/>

EXPORTING ASF PRODUCTS

The Apache Software Foundation (ASF) is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit charity based in the United States of America. All of our products are developed via online collaboration in public forums and distributed from a central server within the U.S. Therefore, U.S. export laws and regulations apply to our distributions and remain in force as products and technology are re-exported to different parties and places around the world. Information on export control classifications and associated restrictions may be required for exporting, re-exporting, record keeping, bundling/embedding of ASF products, encryption reporting, and shipping documentation. You can find more information on U.S. Export Regulations at <http://www.bis.doc.gov/>.

- Github also announced potentially under Export Control.
